Ms. Grace thought the changes were positive. She was in favor of the project.

Mr. Karakul was in favor of the landscape plan. He believed the central piece of the front façade was still awkward and did not have an authentic feel. He questioned the scale of the design.

Mr. Corey asked about the balustrade and why they remained in the design. Mr. Garcia responded and discussed the efforts to keep the balustrade. Mr. Corey did not believe the overall design worked. He was not in favor of the fire escape on the rear of the building and recommended using the area for a greenspace. He also questioned the new balcony in its proposed location.

He asked about the design of the garage door on the south side. Mr. Garcia responded and explained the design. Mr. Corey also had problems with the proportions of the front entrance façade; he suggested some design alternatives for this area. Mr. Corey suggested some consistency with the fenestration. Mr. Garcia discussed the design of the balcony as well as the fire escape stairs.

Mr. Kirchhoff provided suggestions for the front door design. He did like the details on top of the pediment on the front façade. He stated he would support a variance to enclose the stairwell for the fire escape.

Ms. Grace appreciated the changes, especially to the fenestration. She appreciated the low hedges that would not grow past the balustrades. She supported the exterior fire escape and was in favor of the detailing at the top of the pediment. She inquired if similar trees could be added to the south side of the property. She also asked about the material for the door on the south side. Mr. Garcia responded. Mr. Haigh also discussed the suggestion for the additional trees and the restrictions for these plantings.

Mr. Kirchhoff wanted to express his appreciation for the changes but thought the front façade needed additional restudy.

Ms. Shiverick thanked the applicant for the inspiration photographs and appreciated the applicant's efforts to save the building. She suggested adding more verticality to the front door and window. Mr. Garcia responded. She thought a tile border, as shown in the inspiration photographs, could be added for interest.

Mr. Kirchhoff thought one metal door and window opening would be preferred.

Mr. Karakul wondered if the project could be partially approved, with the front façade returning after a restudy. Mr. Smith agreed.

Mr. Smith called for public comment.

Bill and Anne Metzger, 277 Esplanade Way, expressed their appreciation that the balustrade would remain. Ms. Metzger inquired about the plantings near the balustrade. Mr. Haigh responded and discussed the plantings proposed.

Gregory Bonner, B1 Architect, presented the architectural modifications for the proposed new residence.

Dustin Mizell, Environment Design Group, discussed the landscape and hardscape changes proposed for the site.

Ms. Grace understood the request for the one-car garage due to the limited parking on the street; she wondered if a portion of the fountain could be eliminated for overflow parking. She questioned the proposed windows and suggested using a vertical panel for the glass. She recommended using a lighter window frame. She questioned the blue color proposed and wondered if it was too bright. Mr. Bonner stated there was an alternate rendering that eliminated the shutters on the front. Ms. Grace was in favor of the shutters and recommended adding them to the rear of the building.

Mr. Corey questioned the design proposed and thought it was not appropriate for the area. He thought the home was too tall and the proportions were all too big for the area. He suggested a restudy of the home.

Ms. Shiverick thought the home was too dissimilar in many ways to the other homes in the area. She thought the home was loom over many of the homes on the street and would look out of place. She recommended breaking up the mass of the home.

Mr. Kirchhoff agreed with the other Commissioners. He thought the home was too big, symmetrical, and overbearing for the street.

Mr. Smith called for public comment. No one indicated a desire to speak.

Motion made by Ms. Grace and seconded by Mr. Corey to defer the project to the October 26, 2022 meeting for a restudy of the project in accordance with the comments from the Commissioners. Motion carried 6-0.

Mr. Karakul liked the original proposal better and thought it was more interesting. He was not in favor of the flat roof and the addition of the limestone.

Mr. Corey thought the siting of the home was fine but thought there were many missed opportunities with the prominent corner. He thought the corner element should be the focus of the home. He was not in favor of the large, glass panes. He also thought the home was a bit cold and needed more interest.

Mr. Smith was not in favor of the addition of the stone as well as the cupula. He was not in favor of the flat roof. He thought the front door needed a restudy.

Mr. Karakul was in favor of the shutters.

Ms. Grace was in favor of the new entry and the removal of the louvered paneling around the columns. She was not in favor of the addition of the limestone and the large glass pane windows.

Mr. Kirchhoff was in favor of the flat roof. He was not in favor of the popup roof over the front door. Also, he was not in favor of the limestone that was added.

Ms. Shiverick wondered if the proposed home fit into the area. She thought the design needed to be cleaned up to fit into the area with the other homes. Mr. Janssen responded and discussed the landscaping proposed.

Motion made by Mr. Corey and seconded by Ms. Shiverick to defer the project to the October 26, 2022 for a major restudy, pulling in consistent details from surrounding homes.

Mr. Janssen objected to the motion since direction was provided at the last meeting. He did not believe a major restudy was warranted.

Motion carried 4-2, with Messrs. Karakul and Smith dissenting.

13. ARC-22-148 (ZON-22-105) 150 SEMINOLE AVE. (COMBO) The applicant, James Lansing and Haviva D. Langenauer, as Trustee of the Haviva D. Dustin Mizell, Environment Design Group, discussed the landscape and hardscape changes proposed for the site.

Ms. Grace asked staff to repeat their concerns. Mr. Hodges discussed the issue with the property on Root Trail. Ms. Grace thought the windows were out of proportion. She thought the front door seemed too plain. She thought the east side of the home appeared as a greenhouse.

Mr. Segraves discussed the issue of the rear wall on Root Trail. He added that the issue was not an architectural issue, but more of a legal issue.

Maura Ziska, attorney for the applicant, discussed the issue between the two properties and indicated there would be an opening for the neighbor to maintain their property. She indicated that the issue was not in the purview of ARCOM.

Ms. Shiverick thought the home should be cleaned up, updated, and maintain the original charm of the home. She supported the addition to the rear of the home. She thought the proposed changes were drastic, in terms of construction, as well as style. She was not in favor of the proposed roofs, the contemporary fenestration, and the number of doors.

Mr. Segraves inquired about the east porch and wondered if the Commissioners would support the design.

Ms. Shiverick expressed concern for changing the style of the home. Ms. Shiverick supported the sunroom but was not in favor of the floor to ceiling windows, type of mullions and windows proposed. Ms. Shiverick also thought it would be hard to support a solar roof without seeing the material sample. Mr. Segraves responded.

Mr. Kirchhoff supported the owner trying to save the home. He agreed with Ms. Shiverick and was not in favor of the proposed windows. However, he did support the sunroom but questioned the design. He also questioned the front entry element.

Mr. Corey was supportive of the addition. However, Mr. Corey thought the professional should use the elements on the existing home to try to enhance the design of the new home.

Ms. Grace stated she could support the sunroom if all the other windows on the home were consistent.

Mr. Smith thought the new design lost some of the charm of the existing home. He was in favor of the addition and sunroom; however, he recommended using consistent fenestration.

Mr. Smith called for public comment.

John Eubanks, attorney for John and Margaret Brady at 155 Root Trail, discussed the issues with the masonry wall in the rear of his clients' property, which was adjacent to the subject property.

Ms. Grace thanked the professional for the restorations since the last presentation. She indicated she preferred a smaller front entry, and she thought the added quoins were acceptable. She asked about the removal of the shutters. Mr. Sachs responded. She stated she preferred the shutters and was in favor of the original staircase in the rear of the property. She asked about the removal of a gutter. Mr. Sachs responded.

Ms. Shiverick was in favor of the changes but agreed with Ms. Grace about the portico. She was in favor of the smaller portico as she believed it related better to the wings of the home.

He inquired about a wall in the connection from the main to the guesthouse. Mr. Janssen explained the design. Mr. Corey was against the three dormer windows on the west elevation. He thought the windows would loom over the neighboring home.

Mr. Karakul agreed with Mr. Corey's assessment of the dormer windows. He also thought the landscaping needed more mystery in front of the guesthouse.

Ms. Connaughton agreed with her other Commissioners. She was worried the guesthouse would feel like three stories from the neighbor and the street. She provided suggestions to pull the wing down. Mr. Janssen responded and thought he could massage the terracing. Ms. Connaughton thought the whole guesthouse could be brought down one story.

Mr. Karakul thought more landscaping needed to be added to the Northwest elevation to disguise the guesthouse.

Mr. Corey provided suggestions to bring down the west portion of the guesthouse.

Mr. Sammons objected to the very long expanse of stucco without supports. Mr. Sammons also questioned the large chimneys. Mr. Janssen responded and explained the design of the chimneys. Mr. Sammons thought the dormers should be eliminated.

Call for disclosure of ex parte communication: Disclosure by several members.

Bill Boyle, Bill Boyle Architecture, presented the architectural plans proposed for the new residence.

Mr. Corey did not believe the design worked. He believed the issue was with the site plan rather than the architecture. He thought the home was too big for the site. He thought the scale and massing of the home was not in keeping with the neighborhood. Mr. Boyle pointed out that the existing home was larger than the proposed.

Mr. Connaughton agreed with Mr. Corey and thought the home was too large for the site. She liked the photographs included for precedent; she recommended looking at those photographs in terms of the entry bay.

Call for disclosure of ex parte communication: Disclosure by several members.

Harvey Oyer, Attorney on behalf of the applicant, provided an overview of the newly proposed pre-school.

Michael Perry, MP Architecture & Design, presented the architectural modifications proposed for the existing, commercial building.

My Oyer further discussed the details of the school, including hours of operation, attendance, and parking. He advocated for a positive recommendation to the Town Council.

Andrew Speranzini, representing the Parc Regent Condominium at 184 Bradley Place, objected to the application, and questioned if the application met the requirements of the Code. He specifically objected to potential noise, traffic, and congestion in the area.

John Eubanks, representing the Palm Beach Biltmore Condominium at 150 Bradley Place, objected to the application, specifically related to traffic, the artificial turf proposed, and parking.

Town Attorney Randolph indicated that the Commission should base their comments on the architecture.

Mr. Corey inquired about the variance request. Mr. Oyer responded. Mr. Corey was supportive of the variance request since it provided more greenspace. He thought the architecture was fine. He stated he was fine with either of the gate choices. However, he objected the artificial turf. He recommended using real turf and adding more trees.

A discussion ensued about the use of artificial turf and the replacement of this turf.

Mr. Oyer stated that they were a tenant on the property and discussed the costs to replace the asphalt.

Mr. Sammons asked if there were shade trees on the property. Mr. Perry responded.

Mr. Corey understood the issue; however, he was still against the artificial turf. Mr. Perry thought they could find a solution for the artificial turf.

Motion made by Mr. Corey to approve the project as presented with the condition that the artificial turf be replaced with real turf.

Mr. Martin stated he researched the parking for this project and thought the parking for the site was sufficient.

Mr. Sammons agreed and thought the parking was sufficient. He recommended adding some trees in boxes.

Motion amended by Mr. Corey and seconded by Mr. Martin to approve the project as presented with the conditions that any artificial turf shall be replaced with real turf, and that two additional shade trees shall be planted in the new grassy area. Motion carried unanimously, 5-0.

Steve West, Parker Yannette Design Group, presented the landscape and hardscape plans proposed for the site during demolition.

Mr. Sammons called for public comment. No one indicated a desire to speak.

Mr. Karakul wondered if the professional considered keeping the façade along N. County Road during demolition.

Mr. Sammons agreed and wondered if the façade could be kept and incorporated into the new design. Mr. Janssen responded.

Ms. Connaughton thought it was problematic to approve the demolition without the plans of a new building.

Mr. Karakul thought the proposal was problematic, especially how the site would look until construction began.

Mr. Corey wondered if there was a plan that showed the lot after demolition. Mr. Janssen responded. Mr. Corey wondered if the façade could be retained until new construction, maybe even to assuage security issues.

A discussion ensued about the timing of the demolition and the lack of plans for the new building.

Mr. Sammons thought there was precedent to preserve the façade of the building. He questioned the hardship for not saving ten feet of the existing building and working it into the new design. Mr. Janssen stated that they could consider the suggestion but the goal with the current application was to obtain approval for demolition.

Town Attorney Randolph offered that the Commission could not require the applicant to maintain a portion of the building to be demolished.

Mr. Sammons stated they were asking to keep a portion of the building in the spirit of community.

Michael Scharf, 225 Dunbar Road, addressed the issue of removing the building and the reasons for the demolition request. He indicated that keeping a portion of the building would be an insurance cost and potential liability cost to the synagogue.

Mr. Corey suggested an approval of the demolition, with Mr. Scharf's agreement to keep the façade up during the development of the new building.

Mr. Sammons asked the architect to try to incorporate the façade of the old building with the new building.

Motion made by Mr. Corey and seconded by Mr. Martin to approve the project as presented, with the condition that the front façade along N. County Road will be left on a temporary basis. Motion carried unanimously, 5-0.
